

Contributors

Riley Black is a fourth-year honours student in Political Science. He plans on pursuing a master's degree in European, Russian, and Eurasian studies at Carleton University.

Rachel Block is in her final year of the Integrated Education Program at the University of Winnipeg. She will be graduating in 2019 with a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Education. After graduation, Rachel plans to work as an elementary school teacher.

Jonas Brandt is a graduate of the Religion & Culture Honours program, with a Minor in Philosophy. He is planning to begin his Master of Arts in Religious Studies for September of 2019.

Aaron Demeter will be graduating from the University of Winnipeg in the spring of 2019 with an Honours degree in History and Religion & Culture. He will be pursuing a Master of Arts in Communication and Culture through a joint program between Ryerson and York University. Through this program he will be expanding his research on frontier through American imperialism.

Benjamin Dueck is a fourth-year student of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications whose research examines the symbiotic connections between ideology and technologies of communication. He is moving on to pursue graduate studies at the University of Toronto's Faculty of Information.

Destiny Elcock is a fourth-year student of the Integrated Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Education program, majoring in History. Elcock plans to become an Early/Middle Years teacher once she has completed her education degree.

Kyle Friesen is a third year undergrad pursuing a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Political Science and International Development. Upon graduation, he intends to pursue a Masters in the field of International Affairs.

Kell Hagerman is a third-year English student with an interest in artistic experience and creative writing across a multiplicity of cultural perspectives, which he intends to explore further with education and work in the field of publishing.

Rachel Head is in her fourth and final year of her Bachelor of Arts in English. She will be attending the University of Western Ontario in the fall of 2019 to pursue a Master's of Arts in Library and Information Studies.

Declan Moulden is in his fifth and final year of an Honours Political Science degree. After graduating, he intends to intern at the Manitoba Legislature before pursuing a degree in law or public administration.

Jennifer (Hammond) Sebring is a fourth-year Honours student in Women's and Gender Studies. She is involved on campus as a writing tutor, student group organizer, and research assistant. Upon completing her undergraduate degree, Jennifer plans to continue working with the greenhouse artlab at UW before pursuing graduate studies.

Jeden O. Tolentino is in the final year of a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) program at The University of Winnipeg. He plans to combine his academic training in history and his professional experience in statistics to pursue a Ph.D. in the history and philosophy of science.

David Wiebe recently graduated with a four-year Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy. He currently studies Law at the University of Manitoba.

Jenny Yuzwa is a fourth-year student completing a BA (Hons.) in Philosophy, in addition to a three-year BA in History, as well as a double minor in English and Theatre and Film. Her future plans include pursuing an MA in Philosophy and a law degree.

